The State Police

Should Be for

Policemen Only

On Friday, October 19, the Arkansas Recorder, state news digest published at Little Rock by John F. Wells, reported that Hardy (Spider) Rowland had been added to the state police payroll.

This was confirmed in news dispatches from the capital Monday, October 22.

Rowland should be identified as a whimsical character who was picked up in a night club and built into a newspaper columnist by the Arkansas Gazette. As a columnist Rowland went to great lengths to promote Sidney McMath for governor.

Later, the Gazette finding itself caught in a strike of news and circulation workers organized by the CIO-American Newspaper Guild lived to see Rowland turn against the paper that had made him famous, writing defamatory articles for the Guild against the Gazette, and circulating them to the papers of the smaller cities of Arkansas—whose editors promptly threw him away.

Rowland's hiring out to the state police was discovered first by Editor Wells of the Arkansas Recorder, and therefore it is worth noting what Wells has to say editorially about it. He charges that Rowland isn't qualified to be a state policeman. He says Governor McMath is simply discharging a personal political debt in putting Rowland on the state payroll. And Wells charges that the governor in doing so broke the law which covers qualifications for state police membership.

Most citizens will agree that the state police organization should be reserved for qualified policemen. And on this point Wells has raised charges against the administration which up to now remain unanswered.

A hedge is apparent, however, in the formal announcement about Rowland's hiring, carried by the Associated Press last Monday. The dispatch reported:

"State Police Director Herman Lindsey said Rowland will handle news releases and other written material on traffic and safety problems."

Thus there is an attempt by the McMath administration to declare that Rowland was hired not as a policeman but as a newspaperman. That is something which the newspapers will contradict.

In view of the malice which Rowland distributed against the state's great morning newspaper you can't expect any other paper in Arkansas to trust or give space to anything Rowland now proposes to write for the taxpayers' money.

It is a deplorable situation, especially for the state police, whose membership deserve something better than political patronage and public disrespect.

Iran Premier Handed Plan to End Oil Fight

Washington, Oct. 24 (AP)—A new plan to end the Iranian-British oil dispute was reportedly presented to Premier Mossadeq of Iran as he lunched yesterday with President Truman.

Secretary of State Acheson and Secretary of Defense Lovett were among top American officials who joined in the one hour and 45 minutes of luncheon table diplomacy at Blair House.

Mossadeq arrived here yesterday from Philadelphia. He came to this country to present his case against British ownership of Iran's oil resources at the United Nations security council. Iran has expelled Britain from her oil fields and refineries.

Officials were keeping quiet about details of the proposal reportedly served up to Mossadeq with lunch, but one informed source said the broad outlines of one suggestion were:

1. Iran would own and operate her oil facilities, with the help of western technicians supervised by a manager from outside Iran but not of the same nationality as the technicians.

2. Iran would sell her oil at a "discount" to Britain, and allow Britain to market it.

This was just a suggestion to get negotiations between Britain and Iran going again, the source said. Mossadeq's reaction was not learned.

The U. N. sidestepped the issue by calling upon the world court to decide if the U. N. has jurisdiction. This gives some time, possibly several months, in which to settle the problem by negotiation.

Meanwhile, with her oil wells and refineries idle, Iran is losing her principal source of revenue. With the Anglo-Iranian oil company ousted, Britain is losing revenue, and like the rest of the world, badly needed oil and petroleum products.

Acheson is scheduled to call on Mossadeq in the premier's suite at Walter Reed Army hospital, today. Mossadeq is expected to return to Iran by plane late this week.

Plenty Cotton Lending Agencies

Hempstead County cotton growers have available a number of lending agencies through which they place their 1951 cotton crop in the Commodity Credit Corporation loan program, Earl Martindale chairman of the county PMA Committee said today.

Loan forms are available at CCC approved warehouses, lending agencies and at the county PMA office. Cotton must be officially graded and be stored in an approved warehouse before a loan will be made.

Approved lending agencies in this county are:

Citizens National Bank
First National Bank
Production Credit Association

The average loan rate for Middling 15/16 inch upland cotton produced in 1951 will be 31.71 cents a pound. This rate is based on 50 per cent of the parity price of cotton as of August 1, 1951. Last year the average loan rate for Middling 15/16 inch cotton was 29.43 cents per pound, Mr. Martindale said.

A farmer can contact any approved warehouse, lending agency or the county PMA office to place his cotton under loan. Loans will be made direct by the Commodity Credit Corporation through lending agencies, principally banks approved by the corporation.

The producer's notes will bear interest at the rate of 3 percent per annum and will mature July 31, 1952 but will be callable on demand. Loans will be available through April 30, 1952.

"Since October 31 is the final recommended seeding date for all winter legumes and pasture grasses and legume seed, I want to take this opportunity to urge all farmers holding prior approvals for any of these seed to contact the county PMA office as soon as possible for their purchase orders if they desire to use this plan to purchase the seed," Mr. Martindale said.

No orders for seed can be given after October 26. All farmers who have prior approvals for any practice expiring October 31, should contact the county office prior to November 1. Any approvals not returned by this date will be cancelled and will result in a loss to the farmer of the amount obligated by the approval. An extension of time may be granted for practices other than seeding practices provided application is made prior to the expiration date.

If you desire additional information please contact the county office at your earliest convenience.

Doctor Ends Life After Slaying Wife

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Oct. 24 (AP)—A retired Chicago chiropractor fatally wounded his third wife and then took his own life here yesterday, in what officers said was a case of murder and suicide.

Deputy Sheriff Joseph Leard of Broward county said Dr. Frank J. Furch, Jr., 48, who served eight years in Illinois state prison for killing his second wife, shot Mrs. Lucy Slingerland Furch, and then killed himself to clinch a martial rift.

Between the shootings, the doctor beat Mrs. Furch's 1-year-old daughter, Pamela, with a gun butt and fired three shots at her but missed, Leard reported. The child suffered cuts and bruises on the head but was reported in "good condition."

Mrs. Furch had filed suit for divorce Saturday, alleging she had been beaten and threatened.

Police early yesterday found Mrs. Furch bound and gagged lying on a twin bed with a bullet wound in her head. Dr. Furch was on the living room floor, also with a bullet in his head. He died six hours later. Mrs. Furch died last night. She was 46.

Dr. Furch, a Princeton university graduate, was former president of the Illinois Association of Chiropractors and a dean of the Northwestern Institute of Foot Surgery. He and his first wife, Myrtle, had two children.

Police records show that in 1937 Dr. Furch tried to kill himself after fatally shooting his divorced wife, Norma, and slightly wounding her maid. He was sentenced to 14 years in the Illinois state prison at Joliet but was released in 1945.

He founded the National Association of Nursing Homes in 1949 and this year was executive secretary of the groups National Golden Agers' Day committee. Golden Agers were described as persons who had passed their 60th birthday.

Dr. Furch left a note addressed to Orville Revelle, assistant editor of the Fort Lauderdale Daily News, asking him to forward a watch to Bernard Baruch as "the Golden Ager of distinction."

Crazed Negro Killed After Gun Battle

Petersburg, Va., Oct. 24 (AP)—A badly wounded mental institution escapee, shotgun still cradled in his arms, was killed late yesterday by a fusillade of bullets that ended a seven-hour gun battle in which a state police investigator was killed and six other persons were hurt.

Police shot Herbert Johnson, 37-year-old Negro, after storming an unoccupied two-story farm house in which he had taken refuge following his flight from the nearby Central State hospital.

Johnson had one shell left in his gun and was still on his feet when ten officers ended the siege by moving in under clouds of tear gas and a withering barrage of covering fire from an armored car circling the building.

The officers, on the lower floor, spotted Johnson upstairs through holes made by fire from their riot guns. Two of them fired. Johnson fell.

Until that time, police had been hard-pressed to stay out of range as Johnson fired at them with a gun he is believed to have found in the residence just after he fled the hospital.

Investigator Wallace M. Simpson, 39, was killed by a shot from the window as he tried to rush the house. Two other officers were wounded slightly as they tried to recover Simpson's body.

Also wounded during the siege, in which Johnson held off some 35 officers, were two patients and two hospital employees.

Johnson, a patient at the hospital about six years but not regarded as a mental case with criminal tendencies, had been under treatment in a ward. He recently was allowed to dig potatoes on the prison farm.

Angered yesterday morning when he was given definite working instructions, Johnson fled. Then he holed up in the house.

Guns Cover British Ships Clearing Suez

Cairo, Oct. 24 (AP)—Guns of British warships covered British merchant ships clearing through the Suez Canal today against orders of the Egyptian government.

The Suez and the Cairo areas were quiet after violent outbreaks of anti-British rioting and the government issued stern warning against new outbreaks.

But tension between the British and the Egyptians quickened, a British naval spokesman in Cairo said. Egyptian deliberately was "trying to make things difficult" for the British at the Canal entrances.

Port Said and Suez, and that the Egyptians broke a previous agreement to clear British ships carrying supplies for British military forces in the Canal Zone.

British navy officials issued a communique saying that as a result the navy now was issuing clearance certificates stating that Egyptian clearance was withheld "illegally." Thus far, no British ships have been delayed.

The British maintained a bristling armed defense along the Suez canal.

The British military announced it had lifted—for a 24-hour period only—the ban on oil tanker and truck traffic between Suez and Cairo. The ban was lifted at dawn today, but a military spokesman declined to say why it was lifted for a day only. All tanker and truck traffic between Suez and Cairo had stopped at dawn Tuesday.

The pro-government newspaper Al-Balagh quoted Interior Minister Fouad Serag El Din as saying all was quiet today and there were no new incidents in the canal zone, from which Egypt wants to expel British forces. The Egyptians have scrapped the 1936 Anglo-Egyptian treaty.

Al-Balagh said the Egyptian foreign ministry soon would present a new note to the British embassy protesting "British acts of aggression" in the canal zone. Two such notes already have been handed over.

Strong forces of Egyptian police, kept on the alert against mobs for days, fired on unruly crowds in Alexandria yesterday. They lunged tear gas to break up demonstrators who paraded before the Russian legation in Cairo and shouted "give us arms" to fight the British.

Up to mid-day today no resumption of rioting was reported.

One demonstrator was reported killed in Alexandria yesterday.

Interior Minister Fouad Serag El Din Pasha, whose job is to maintain order in the tense and angry country, sternly declared the government will "take the strongest measures against these troublemakers."

He said he gave orders to the police to shoot into crowds they couldn't break up otherwise. The government had banned demonstrations after rioting broke out two weeks ago in the wake of Egypt's denunciation of its treaties with Britain.

Serag El Din declared many of the demonstrators were "irresponsible and inexperienced" youths easily influenced by traitors and criminals he said infiltrated yesterday's demonstrations of public mourning for Egyptians killed in riots and clashes with the British.

"For the second time," Serag El Din said, "the government declares it will show itself exceptionally severe against any persons who should take part in the future in such demonstrations."

Riots, he said, damage Egypt's fight to oust the British from the Suez canal and the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

Everybody sooner or later gets the chore of going around the office and taking up these collections. And it has two advantages. It keeps you from having to do your own work, and if you make the collection nobody knows whether you actually contributed anything or not.

Atlanta Liquor Death Toll Now Stands at 28

Atlanta, Oct. 24 (AP)—The toll of liquor poisoning deaths reached 28 early today—and the list of dead is expected to grow.

Twenty-two persons died of methanol poisoning at Grady hospital in the wake of weekend sales of a mixture of wood alcohol and water peddled as "good drinking liquor—cheap." Six others died in their homes.

Physicians at the hospital have treated more than 100 persons for the deadly poison and cases were still coming in today. Of the two dozen victims remaining under hospital care, several were given only a scant chance for recovery.

Twelve Negroes accused of peddling the poison have been jailed on charges of suspicion of manslaughter. Officers are searching for an unidentified white man believed to be the source of supply.

Death struck almost instantly in some cases; in others no ill effects were noticed for as much as 48 hours.

Most of the victims were Negroes. Two white persons succumbed to the poison and three others were treated at Grady, the city's emergency hospital.

One of those treated was a 10-year-old Negro boy.

Those stricken collapsed at home, in the streets and alleys and in automobiles. One woman was found dead in a chair on her back porch. A man told police he bought a drink on a street corner and 30 minutes later was admitted to Grady hospital—Blind.

As casualties neared epidemic proportions and the poisonings became known generally, the hospital was swamped with patients. Hospital Supt. Frank Wilson said about 75 persons who had drunk bootleg liquor became hysterical and rushed in with only imaginary symptoms of wood alcohol poisoning. But more than 100 others showed actual symptoms.

Methyl alcohol often is used to "soak up" engine oil. It can be purchased in 50-gallon lots for about $1.75 a gallon.

Citizens were warned to beware of any liquor except that sold in legitimate stores.

L. O. Ringin, 54, one of the Negroes rounded up by police, admitted buying 62 gallons of moonshine from an unidentified white man and reselling it. When he learned it was making drinkers ill, he told officers, he recovered 37 gallons and returned it to the white man. Police said apparently this 37 gallons was put back on the market.

Another Russian Officer 'Dies'

No Day Complete in Life of an American Office Worker Without a 'Collection Taker'

By HAL BOYLE.
New York — (AP)—No day is complete in the life of the American office worker until he is dunned by "the collection taker."

This is the head-in-your-pocket individual who comes up to sandbag you out of your spending money for the welfare of some other character in the office zoo.

The contributions usually are for one of the following causes:

(1) Old Joe, the office bachelor, has just passed on, mourned by his four bookies and a wide circle of distressed bartenders. How about some flowers for good ole Joe, even though he would prefer to be buried with a case of bourbon?

(2) Susie, the boss' sassy stenographer, has quit to go home and have triplets. Let's raise a fund to send at least two of the kids through college.

(3) Pat, the young and popular stock clerk, has just come down with a bad attack of miasma in the adenoids. Come on, fellows, dip deep—and let's finance Pat's deep on the beach at Miami. It's the only way to get rid of miasma this time of year.

Everybody sooner or later gets the chore of going around the office and taking up these collections. And it has two advantages. It keeps you from having to do your own work, and if you make the collection nobody knows whether you actually contributed anything or not.

Congress to Decide Fate of Vatican Envoy

Washington, Oct. 24 (AP)—Congress will get a chance to decide whether the United States should have a full diplomatic representative at the Vatican, church-state of Roman Catholicism in Italy.

The White House announced yesterday that President Truman is not going to offer Gen. Mark Clark a recess appointment. Press Secretary Joseph Short said "it is more satisfactory to Clark" to await congress' action.

Mr. Truman sent to the senate the nomination of Clark to be the first American ambassador to the Vatican last Saturday, just before congress adjourned until Jan. 8.

The senate must approve ambassadorial appointments.

But the house would also be involved in this case. It would have to vote on a waiver, for Clark, of the law forbidding military officers to accept civilian government posts. To accept an appointment while congress is in recess, Clark would have to resign from the Army.

The nomination has raised a storm of protest from many Protestant quarters, and praise from Catholics. There was no suggestion that the controversy influenced Mr. Truman's decision not to give Clark a recess appointment.

Clark is a four-star general, in command of U. S. field forces. Short said he has some work he wants to finish before taking any leave.

Meanwhile, the Vatican newspaper Osservatore Romano said the proposed appointment had no "military significance." The paper was denying Communist assertions that selection of Clark for the post indicated a military design.

Three Violent Deaths in State

New Yorker Faces Murder Charge

Hackensack, N. J., Oct. 24 (AP)—New Jersey officials have charged a formal murder complaint against a New York man who they said seemed at first to be only a "bit gambler" in the slaying of Willie Moretti.

The complaint against Joseph Calvi, signed yesterday by a grand jury in New York, said L. Lowe, New Jersey deputy attorney general.

Moretti, colorful and gambler, was shot to death at Cliffside Park restaurant Oct. 19. A tip from a blonde singer resulted in L. Calvi's Saturday in New York.

Final Rites for Mrs. O'Neal Today

(4) The happy contributor—"sure put me down for a buck. I'm glad to do it. I don't have it with me, you put it in for me, will you?"

(5) The coward—he comes up and says, "say, don't you still owe me that buck I put in for you to buy old Joe those roses?"

(6) The empty-pocketed blues-singer—"gee you know I'd like to, but the mortgage on our lovely set comes due tomorrow."

(7) The cry baby—"nobody took up a collection for me. I could drop dead in my tracks and nobody around here would even bother to send me a get-well card."

(8) The cheerful four-flusher—"I can't get in on it right now. But see me Friday for sure. Now don't forget." (He signs home from work Friday, figuring by Monday the whole thing will blow over.)

(9) The Philadelphia lawyer type—"I think you are going about this in the wrong way. How about getting him workmen's compensation? Has anyone written the social security board? How about taking this up with his congressman? Oh, no that's out. He's a Republican, and his congressman is a Democrat."

(10) The average guy—he puts his hand in his pocket, gives a wry grin and forks over the dough he'd hoped to buy a few beers with. But he goes home feeling a little warmer in his heart for knowing the people where he works stick together in little ways, in times of happiness and hurt.

Truce Parley Starts Tonight; Fighting Fierce

By The Associated Press
There was fighting in the air and on the ground today as UN and Communist negotiators got set for the resumption of the Korean truce talks tonight.

On the Central Front, tanks railed Kumsong again, destroying 24 bunkers just west of the city.

In a jet air battle over North Korea, the Reds lost one and probably two planes and the Allies lost one plane.

Seoul, Korea, Oct. 24 (AP)—If the next Korean armistice talks fall out of the unhealthiest thing in the world be a Chinese Communist in Korea.

During the past three and one-half months United Nations forces have forged gains up to 12 miles deeper into North Korea. They have wrested more than 250 square miles of Red territory.

Granted the fighting was tough and in several places and casualties ran unusually high, there gains are nothing to what "Conf. Games A V. Fleet's Eighth Army could do.

The best estimate of Chinese and North Korean strength now is about 500,000 men.

Although the armies are about even in manpower, the Reds still have not got the tanks and planes to match Van Fleet's.

Whether the Allies go on another drive into North Korea naturally depends on what happens at the Panmunjom talks.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme Allied commander, reported in Tokyo last week that the U. N. objective was to "repel aggression in Korea."

From one way of looking at it, this has been done since the Reds generally have been thrown back north of the 38th parallel, and in some cases 30 to 50 miles north of 38.

However, if the talks break down completely, Ridgway and Van Fleet are not going to sit around. There has been some talk that if an armistice is not realized by the time, U. N. forces will drive the Reds about 80 miles back and establish a line across the narrow neck of the peninsula, from Pyongyang, present Red Korean capital, to Wonsan on the East coast.

Then, the story is, Ridgway would say: "The war is over, far as we are concerned. A new and bigger republic of Korea would be organized south of the line."

Action on the front during the next round of talks depends on what the Chinese are doing by Allied air observers.

When the negotiations bogged down, July there was speculation that Communists might be using a breathing spell to build up strength offensive.

This has proved not to be the case. The Reds haven't got the manpower in Korea than they have before.

Holt Will Surrender to Officers

Hollywood, Oct. 23 (AP)—Western Movie Actor Tim Holt was to surrender to authorities here today on a warrant charging him with perjury in connection with an effort to obtain an Arkansas divorce.

His studio announced yesterday that Holt would turn himself over to answer the charge, filed at Little Rock, Ark.

He is accused of swearing falsely that he was a resident of Arkansas at least 90 days — the minimum residency requirement in Arkansas — in attempting to obtain the divorce.

A similar warrant has been issued against Frank Swilling of Little Rock, who was Holt's witness in the actor's divorce case in a Little Rock court.

Holt attempted to obtain the divorce while appearing as a guest star at the Arkansas Livestock show today at Little Rock. A hearing was held before Chancellor Frank Dodge Oct. 4 but no decree was issued and the suit was dismissed.

DOROTHY DIX Good Disposition

Dear Dorothy Dix: With a choice of two friends, should I choose the one with a good disposition or the one with looks and money? I am 16 and like a boy 17 who is good looking but does not have a good disposition. He flares up if I even look at another boy. He is moody and easily irritated. I also like another boy with a very good disposition and even temper. He is not particularly good looking but is a more agreeable companion.

N. D. D. Answer: A good disposition is pretty much a permanent asset. Looks can change, the financial status of a boy can improve or decline, but temperament remains quite stable. Moody people provide a problem even for adults to cope with; they're much too much for a teenager to cope with. After all, what you want on a date is gaiety and fun. Trying to cheer an irritable beau is no part of an evening out.

Don't Marry A Grouch Some people are born with sunny dispositions and exude cheerfulness under all circumstances. Others, less fortunate, begin life with chips on their shoulders. Wrong thinking in childhood intensifies a bad disposition; then they reach adulthood, seemingly with no other aim than to make everyone else in the world miserable. Woe to the woman who marries such a one! The rarest thing in her life is a smile, or a word of praise.

Don't let your moody friend make excuses for his bad temper. There are none! A little sense and determination can sweeten the worst humor. However, since you have a pleasant young man at hand, save yourself the job of reformation and take the beau with the smile!

Dear Miss Dix: A lovely lady of 47 is very much in love with me, and since I am 68 I think there is too much difference in our ages. She insists she doesn't like younger men. My children are grown and I doubt if they would approve of a stepmother their own age. This lady thinks I ought to put the wife first, which is true, but I don't want to hurt my children. Would you think it a wise move to marry her?

WIDOWER Answer: No, I do not! She is so determined to get you, however, that you'll have to do some fast thinking to escape her clutches. Not only is she much too young for you, she is also intent on binding you in matrimonial bonds, and drawing you away from your children. All in all, she is not an admirable character and you'll be happier continuing in your present status.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Two years ago my first husband and I were divorced and I was given custody of our two young children. I remarried, and shortly after my second husband died. Recently, his brother has proposed to me, and he could give me everything I want. While I was considering his proposal, my first husband reappeared on the scene, said he still loved me and wanted me to go back to him. For the children's sake, I think this would be a good idea. I feel I could be happy with either man, as they both are wonderful.

PEGGY Answer: To clarify a complicated situation, I agree that for your children's sake you would be wise to remarry your first husband. Just be sure to straighten out, before marriage, the problems that contributed to the divorce. Going through the whole process again will further confuse the lives of your youngsters, and by this time they should be established in some form of security.

May Order Meat for Armed Forces

Washington, Oct. 23 (AP)—The government this week may order slaughtermen to pool their excess beef to help provide meat for the armed forces and institutional users.

One high government official said today the chief aims of the plan would be: (1) To provide better distribution of beef supplies throughout the country and (2) To promote compliance by slaughtermen with price ceilings in the purchase of live animals.

This official, who asked that his name not be used, outlined the projected pool arrangement to a reporter this way:

A slaughterer would be allowed to kill and sell up to only as much as he killed in a corresponding period of 1950. All beef slaughtered in excess would go into the pool.

A priority system would be set up, with first call on beef in the pool going to the armed forces; second call to such institutional users as hospitals, orphanages and prisons; and third call to slaughtermen unable to buy and kill their share of cattle on the market.

Songwriter Weds

Laguna Beach, Calif., Oct. 23 (AP)—Composer Jack Norworth, 72, who wrote the song hit, "Shine On, Harvest Moon," and Mrs. Arty Swor, 56, widow of Comedian Bert Swor, are newlyweds.

Norworth revealed yesterday that they were married last Wednesday at—most appropriately—Livingston N. M. His first wife was Nora Baes one-time musical comedy star, died last year.

Norworth, who also wrote "Take Me Out To The Ball Game" was a vaudeville celebrity in the early 1900s.

Demos Trying to Avoid Vote on Gen. Clark

Washington, Oct. 23 (AP)—Opposition to Senator Connally (D-Texas) move to avoid a vote on President Truman's nomination of Gen. Mark Clark as ambassador to the Vatican.

Connally based his fight against the appointment on Clark's World War II command of the 36th Texas National Guard division in the bloody Rapido river crossing in Italy.

But a Democratic senator who usually supports Mr. Truman's proposals told a reporter he had others hope for avoidance of the religious issue raised by the President's move to give full diplomatic recognition to the Vatican.

This senator, who asked that his name not be used, said he believes the President's action has put on a hot political spot every senator running for re-election next year in states where the result is in doubt between Democrats and Republicans.

A vote for confirmation of Clark would anger Protestant elements who have opposed giving diplomatic recognition to the Roman Catholic church state, the senator said, while a vote against Clark might arouse Catholics who hold the balance of power in some areas.

As a result, the Democratic senator said he and others hope the president will decide to name Clark as his personal representative to the Vatican. Myron C. Taylor held that status from 1940 until last January.

This would not require senate activity. It also would not involve official diplomatic recognition of the Vatican.

Clark's nomination was submitted Saturday and congress adjourned about three hours later without acting on it.

Many prominent Protestants have objected to the action, arguing that establishment of full diplomatic relations with the Vatican violates a constitutional injunction that church and state affairs be kept separate. "The White House said 'a few hundred' letters and telegrams had come in, most of them critical."

The National Council of the Churches of Christ in America summoned a special meeting in New York on Oct. 31 to discuss the matter. The 125-member general board of the council was called into special session. Churches represented in the council have some 31,000,000 members.

Chicago, Oct. 23 (AP)—The $5,555 found in the underwear of Sigmund (Swindling Sam) Engel while he was in jail in 1949 was divided among five persons in circuit court yesterday.

Three of the women in the life of the 76 year old Romeo each got a portion, but not the amount they sought. Engel is serving a two to 10 year prison sentence for confidence game in connection with the complaint of one of the women, Mrs. Reseda Corrigan.

Mrs. Corrigan, 41 year old red-haired widow, sued for $3,700, which she said she gave Engel after he promised to marry her. She was awarded $600.

Mrs. Pauline Langton, who claims she is Engel's only legal and loyal wife, also was awarded $600. She sued for $7,550 plus 5 per cent interest and said she gave him the money while he was awaiting trial.

The highest award, $2,500, was to Mrs. Florence C. Barreto, 52. She had sued for $12,000 which she said she gave Engel for safekeeping after he promised to marry her.

Women Divide Swindler's Money

Los Angeles, Oct. 23 (AP)—It took Mrs. Carolina Paris, 70, 11 years and 11 months to make up her mind to remarry.

So she and Jim Nicolino, 68, obtained marriage license yesterday and agreed they will wed "very soon."

Nicolino said that for 30 years he, a stone mason, had lived as a roomer in Mrs. Paris' home. Her husband died 12 years ago. One month later Nicolino proposed. And 11 years and 11 months later she accepted.

Conservatives Get Nod in a Straw Vote

London, Oct. 22 (AP)—British election campaigning moved into the closing stages today, and political forecasts were almost unanimously predicting victory for the Conservative party led by Winston Churchill.

Voters go to the polls at 7 a. m. (2 a. m. EST) Thursday.

Latest reports today from political soundings all over the United Kingdom, as reported by London newspapers, told the same story with varying details — a forecast the conservatives will defeat the Labor party.

Estimates of the expected Tory majority in the house of commons ranged from 43 to 100 seats.

The single dissenting opinion came — as was expected — from the Daily Herald, a Labor party journal.

It quoted Morgan Phillips, secretary of the Labor party, as saying in a speech, "I believe we can win." But even the Herald noted that Phillips, unlike the forecasts of the conservative and independent observers, did not mention an estimated figure in the next house of commons.

The majority of editors of local newspapers throughout Britain believe the Conservatives will capture the government by 70 seats, the Birmingham Times reported. The editors were asked to forecast

Maine Gets New Congressman

Bangor, Me., Oct. 23 (AP)—A big boost for potato man who have sought public office before.

Maine's new congressman-elect, Republican Clifford G. McIntire, 43, of Perham will take office January 8 as successor to Rep. Frank Fellers (R) who died last August.

McIntire, a grower and executive of the world's largest potato cooperative, defeated two opponents in a special third district election yesterday.

Practically complete returns, unofficially tabulated, gave him 25,771 votes to 8,941 for Mrs. Katherine M. Hickson (D) and 2,218 for Ralph A. Dyer, Jr., an independent.

McIntire, a director of the national potato council, carried all the district's five counties except Washington, where GOP strength was split over the suspended quoddy tidal power project.

Aggies were out to get McIntire, who was taken from the game after seven minutes of the first quarter. A.M. won 27-14 Saturday, snapping Drake's 5-game winning streak.

Actor Stricken But Show Goes on

New York, Oct. 24 (AP) — The drama of a real life incident continued with the fiction of an opera at City Center last night.

As the first act of Wagner's "The Ring Cycle" unfolded, one of the performers, Oscar Natka, the bass playing the role of "Foghorn," collapsed to workers backstage that he needed a doctor.

Slowly, he edged toward the side of the stage. He managed to sing all but the last two sentences of his part. Then he stumbled into the wings and collapsed.

He was taken to St. Vincent's hospital where he was reported in fair condition early today. Physicians were giving the 30-year-old singer tests to determine if he had a heart ailment.

When the ambulance was called, company Director Lazzaroli Houlas, stepped to the center of the stage and explained the situation to the audience. The show went on after a half-hour delay.

Called at home, Norman Scott, husband to the theater to finish Natka's part. An opera company worker, meantime, dashed to the hospital to get the proper costume from Natka.

Then, the excitement over the music and fiction resumed.

L. R. Police to Work Traffic

Little Rock, Oct. 24 (AP) — Traffic control at the Arkansas-Santa Clara football game here Saturday night apparently will go off as scheduled despite a controversy with police over payment for overtime work.

A group of Little Rock patrolmen asked the city council's finance committee to grant overtime pay for work at such events.

Patrolman Jack Orr, president of the policemen union said officers are authorized a 14-hour week. He said they thought they were entitled to receive extra pay for overtime work.

However, Orr said that they would work the game Saturday night at a salary of $100 but it would be under protest.

Chief of Police Marvin Potts said, after a meeting with patrolmen yesterday that traffic at the game would be supervised.

The council committee said no funds are available for overtime payments.

Prince Carl of Sweden Succumbs

Stockholm, Sweden, Oct. 24 (AP) — Prince Carl of Sweden, for 40 years head of the Swedish Red Cross, died early today. The 90-year-old prince was an uncle of King Gustaf VI and a brother of the late King Gustaf V.

One of his daughters is Crown Princess Martha of Norway. Another daughter, Queen Astrid of Belgium, was killed in an automobile accident in Switzerland in 1935.

The prince headed the Swedish Red Cross from 1926 to 1945. During both world wars he personally directed its widespread efforts to aid war prisoners, invalids and refugees throughout Europe.

Durocher Is Manager of the Year

New York, Oct. 24 (AP) — Leo Durocher, whose managerial career during the balance four years ago, is baseball's "manager of the year" for 1951.

The 41-year-old pilot gained the accolade for leading the New York Giants to the most sensational pennant triumph in National League history.

Durocher won the award in an Associated Press poll conducted among the 187 members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

The Giant leader collected 11 votes to breeze home ahead of Casey Stengel, manager of the world champion New York Yankees, who was second with 11.

Stengel won the award in 1949. Other pilots who figured in the poll were Al Lopez of Cleveland, Paul Richards of the Chicago White Sox, Jimmy Dykes of the Philadelphia Athletics and Marty Marion of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Lopez and Richards received four votes each and Dykes and Marion one apiece.

Durocher, advised of his selection while playing golf near his West Los Angeles winter home said: "That's great news. It makes me very, very happy. I am very grateful."

"I'm grateful to the New York Giants' team. It was the players who made this possible for me. Without them, without the grand way they played I wouldn't get this honor, of course. They came through and played like the champions they are."

Durocher's darkest hour was in 1947 when he was suspended for the season by former Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler for "conduct detrimental to baseball."

Durocher returned to the helm of the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1948 but on July 16, in a move that stunned the baseball world, he switched to the New York Giants, Brooklyn's most bitter rivals.

The Giant fans didn't take to Durocher immediately. Some even termed the move high treason. The Giants finished fifth in 1948 and 1949 and the fans began yelling for Leo's scalp.

Durocher risked his job during the 1949 off season when he broke up a slow-running, but heavy slugger crew for "my kind of team."

"The Giants started slowly in 1950 and again Durocher's job was in jeopardy. But the New Yorkers finished a strong third.

Durocher's 1951 team was favored in many quarters to bring the Polo Grounds its first flag since 1927. But the Giants lost 11 straight during the first month and the outlook was bleak, indeed.

The little leader restored the team's confidence and the Giant began to climb. They trailed Brooklyn by 19 1/2 games as late as Aug. 11 but kept plugging away and finally caught the Dodgers two days before the end of the season. The Giants clinched their surge of defeating the Dodgers in a playoff for the pennant.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

New York, Oct. 24 (AP) — Last night's game of football was a battle of attrition. It doesn't bother him when he's tackling some big bruiser of a fullback, but when he wants to sleep, Don has to lie down on the floor or some other unyielding surface. . . . Recently the Rice team which showed a big Carlisle Indian tackle named "Little Boy" who always slept on the floor because a mattress was too soft. . . . Naturally, Rhoden came out with the nickname "Little Boy." . . . (It fits, too, because Don, a junior in college, is only 18 years old.)

Shorts And Shells
 E. of Miami figure filberts have invented a new "statistic" to show off Elmer Tremont's punting effectiveness. They subtract the number of yards a punt is returned from the distance the ball is kicked. . . . Wonder if they stopped to think that tackling effectiveness might fit in there? . . . Pennsylvania has scheduled 12 basketball doubleheaders for the Palestra this winter and Athletic Director Francis Murray is turning a very defensive halfback out of Al Pollard for this week's game against the Packers. . . . The Oregon State College crew has been having trouble in fall practice. The water has been so low the coaching launch couldn't get down the river.

Problem Boy Sent to the State Prison

Five Bluff, Oct. 23 (AP)—Problem boy Robert Fudge of Salem, Ark., may have walked away from the Arkansas boys industrial school for the last time.

Officials of the school are considering some means to have the youth, who has escaped from the institution seven times since 1950, placed in the Arkansas prison farm system.

And, there is a possibility that the courts will settle the matter.

Fudge, who broke out of the school Saturday only a few days after being returned from his eighth escape, faces two charges of automobile theft as a result of his recent escapades.

The 17-year-old youth was captured at Field Knob, Ark. (White county) Sunday night, 24 hours after he walked away from the school.

Night Patrolman Tommy Everett, who arrested Fudge, said the youngster was attempting to burglarize a grocery store.

School Supt. H. P. Hargis said Fudge has spent some time at the penitentiary previously. He said he may have to send him back.

Assistant Supt. Elmer Turner said: "We can't keep him here. Something must be done."

Here is Fudge's record at ABIS to date:

Admitted to school July 24, 1950 from Fulton county on a two-year sentence for burglary.

Escaped Aug. 22, 1950, returned Sept. 2, 1950.

Escaped Oct. 3, 1950, returned next day.

Escaped Oct. 6, 1950, caught two days later.

Escaped Oct. 16, 1950, apprehended.

Fair Enough

New York, Oct. 23.—The state has given unanimous approval to the appointment of Dr. Channing Tobias, a veteran Negro bureaucrat of the endowed area of political propaganda, to be an American delegate to the United Nations. The long and flagrant association of this fellow-traveler with Communist fronts has been partially revealed in these pieces: the exposure of the plot to dissolve important rights of the states and citizens guaranteed by the federal constitution. This scheme was thrust forward by the covert president's committee on civil rights of which Tobias was a member.

The United Nations has propagated a steady attack on the rights of Americans to act freely in the selection of friends, associates and employees. The president's committee insists that a preference for any religious group because of its religious beliefs and customs constitutes "genocide," meaning, roughly, an intention to destroy all members of other sects. By means of international treaties which require only approval of the senate rather than the normal cautious and laborious procedure for the adoption of constitutional amendments, the United Nations would dissolve vital phases of our constitution. The so-called "genocide" proposal is a case in point.

What, we may ask ourselves, are the qualifications of Doctor Tobias to the United Nations?

Doctor Tobias qualified himself by serving for nine years as an associate editor of a notorious pro-Communist and anti-catholic magazine called the "New Masses." Roosevelt once endorsed this magazine and it may be noted in this connection that she was flatteringly named in a public communication by Cardinal Spellman, as an agency of the catholic community because they were Catholics. The Rev. L. M. Birkhead, who operates a post group known as friends of Democracy, also was listed on the masthead of the Protestant and associated himself for years as a literary and philosophical colleague of the late E. H. Huleman Julius, who wrote hatefully of all Christian religions, particularly Catholicism and its clergy.

There is absolutely no doubt that the Protestant was violently pro-Communist and pro-Soviet, and no less hatefully anti-catholic.

There is no doubt that under the strange proposal to create the "genocide" by international treaty, Tobias and Birkhead would be chargeable with this crime. As to Eleanor Roosevelt, the evidence would be less direct and subject to interpretation. But Tobias was on the masthead of this bitterly anti-catholic and thus "genocidal" paper for nine years. There is absolutely no doubt that he knew the anti-catholic editorial policy of this paper.

An editorial was published in March, 1944 under the name of Kenneth Leslie, the editor, a spectacular ephemeral adventurer, with Channing Tobias listed as an editorial adviser. Its title was "Izvestia and the Vatican." It said that Russia, the victim of lies and vilification, "dares at last to point out one of the central figures in the march of world fascism—the Vatican. Bluntly, the Soviet government newspaper, Izvestia, calls the Vatican pro-Fascist."

"Never was there truth so rotten ripe for telling. In the view of the protestant this statement by Izvestia marks the end of a disgraceful era during which millions of innocent people have been led straight into the jaws of Fascism by their spiritual shepherds."

There are many thousands of Negro Catholics in the United States and their number is growing rapidly. There is a large and growing body of Negro Catholic clergy and nuns and of Catholic religious institutions run by and largely for Negroes but without formal segregation. Comment would be superfluous as to the lack of a mandate by Channing Tobias to speak for these Catholics, though he is a Negro. On the basis of statistics he would appear to have credentials, and only the most theoretical credentials at that, from only one Negro in 100.

The same issue of the Protestant, Kenneth Leslie wrote that Stalin's Russia was "nothing less than the realization of the common peoples of all time. Stalin discovered the science of peace and has built out of human material an actual structure of peace throughout a vast portion of the earth's surface. This structure cannot but be imitated throughout the world. It could even be spread throughout the world, when certain conditions have been fulfilled. Anyone who reads the editorial in our first issue will understand the joy with which the Protestant salutes the great achievement of the Soviet Union."

Of course, "genocide" is a synthetic term and was invented only to serve the anti-American intentions of those who plotted to accomplish by international treaty the destruction of constitutional rights which would never be relinquished by the people by due process. It would be "genocide" even to argue theology chiefly the plotters intend to merge the United States into a world state which Soviet Russia would dominate.

Through the ruse of the President's committee on civil rights, this plan was reduced to a vague and slipper formula whose one firm purpose was to suppress the feeling of religious and racial unity and create a federal bureau

Fights Over Channels Delay TV

By JACK ADAMS
For Jim's Mailbox

Washington, Oct. 22 (AP)—When do we get television in our town? You hear that question every day, in places large and small, scattered over more than half of the United States.

For more than three years it has been the most frequent inquiry received at the offices of the federal communications commission officially, FCC says only: "As soon as we can arrange it." That agency all-powerful in the station-licensing field, does not want to be pinned down to promises it may not be able to keep.

However, you might make a big red check-mark by the month of February 1952. It now seems pretty certain that the commission will act during that month to lift the freeze on new TV station grants which has been in effect since Oct. 1, 1948.

The "unfreeze" will be accompanied by publication of a final table of local channel assignments, which will settle what your community is to get by way of operating space in the broadcasting spectrum.

A "reasonable period"—30 to 60 days—will then be allowed for the filing of new applications and the amendment of applications now in hand, in the lift of the final local assignments.

The FCC expects to start processing these applications by April 1. That means some actual grants by midsummer.

If some one in your town—who has the $250,000 to $500,000 necessary to build a station—applies to the FCC and gets a break in his favor on every possible factor, you may see your station in operation by sometime late next year.

But that will be the exceptional case. Largely it can apply only where there is no contest over the channel sought and where the applicant has "taken a chance" and placed an advance order for his transmitter and studio equipment.

The talk in the trades that possibly as many as 100 of the current applicants for new stations have quietly bought everything they need to start up in business. The equipment is in warehouses while the owners keep their fingers crossed for the requested construction permit. There is going to be a great race to be first on the air after the freeze.

The big delays in new station operations will occur in those areas where there is a battle over the channels, where the number of applicants exceed the local channel assignments. In such places, initial or additional TV may be years away—competitive hearings often take that long.

Probers Are Critical of Mississippi

Biloxi, Miss., Oct. 23 (AP)—A blistering attack by a member of the senate preparedness committee added to the worries today of crippled gambling along Mississippi's Gold Coast.

Winding up an investigation into gambling, liquor, and prostitution conditions around Keyhole Air Force base, Senator Lester Hunt (D-Wyo) said last night "A highly critical" report would be turned in.

Before reading a summary report at a hearing windup Hunt criticized the commanding general of Keyhole for failing to adopt a vigorous policy to stop gambling on the Gulf coast.

"I'm not critical of your work on the training center," the senator told Maj. Gen. James F. Powell. "But I do criticize your limited action to stamp out gambling and I am discouraged by your attitude about what happens to the boys off the base."

Hunt's report said the voluminous testimony taken at yesterday's hearing would be turned over to the seven member preparedness committee and the senate armed services committee, and that "proper corrective measures will be evoked."

The report said that gambling interests had so entrenched themselves as to "virtually control the economic life of the area."

During the hearing the committee investigators heard promises from Sheriff Laz Quave and Biloxi Mayor R. Hart Quinn that gambling laws would be enforced during the rest of their terms of office.

Gambling operations shutdown over the weekend under a ultimatum from Quave to close or face national guard raids.

Quave told the committee last night he would enforce strictly the gambling ban during the remaining two months he is in office.

Committee investigators had a hard time pinning Mayor Quinn down to a definite promise to enforce laws against gambling.

He finally said he would halt public playing of slot machines during his remaining 14 months in office, although he said he still believed wide open operations were best.

The investigation around Keyhole was the first of a series but the preparedness committee in its work of looking into vice conditions around service camps.
